

Ross Brown
Director

Ross was born and raised in Albuquerque, New Mexico. He proudly served in the United States Army while earning his business degree from the University of Alabama. Ross has built a strong career in management, operations, and logistics, working with a variety of companies throughout the Albuquerque area. For the last 11 years Ross is working as the Vice President of Development and Facilities with Blakes Lotaburger

Outside of work, he enjoys traveling, Golfing, and, most of all, spending time as a proud and active grandpa.